To whom it may concern,

I, Marleen Murphy at Millside Ceramics, have recently had the pleasure of working with Dawn Setford of Pass the Feather. Pass the Feather is an excellent non-profit organization that focuses on the best interest of Native artists. The organization works in conjunction with local artists to promote their artwork when they are unable to do so themselves due to various reasons.

While working with Dawn I was able to recognize that the Aboriginal culture is of utmost importance to her and her organization, it is people like herself that help preserve the native culture. She has proven to be very trustworthy to work with as well as dependable and hardworking. I feel that Pass the Feather is an organization that will benefit individuals and the culture, and I hope it will continue to grow and strive in the future.

Sincerely,
